WROTE PRIZE POEM

New Honor Falls To Prof. C. Wilbert Snow, a Knox County Boy.

C. Wilbert Snow, Bowdoin 1907, at present professor of English at Wesleyan University has been awarded the prize in the alumni poetry competition conducted in connection with the centennial commencement of the class of 1825 in which Longfellow and Hawthorne were graduated.

Twenty-five poems were submitted by alumni. This competition which is quite novel in the history of American college education, had the same motive as the Institute of Modern Literature held at Bowdoin from May 4 to 16, namely, to make the college a means of encouraging literary endeavor in America.

Each poem was judged entirely on its own merits as a work of art, and its topic and form were left entirely to the writer. The judges were the poet Robert Frost, Henry S. Canby, editor of the Saturday Review of Literature; Prof. S. P. Chase, of Union College; and Professors Mitchell, Andrews, Brown and Elliott of Bowdoin College. Each judge arrived at his decision independently. Several other poems were praised, but the decision was practically unanimous for Mr. Snow's "Thanks-giving."

This poem gives a vivid and original rendering of an old fashioned Thanksgiving Day on a farm on the Maine coast. The poem is in unrhymed verse of a more or less free rhythm. It will be read by Mr. Snow at the exercises to be held during Commencement at the college, June 17, when Edward Page Mitchell '71, late of the New York Sun, and Prof. Bliss Perry, of Harvard, will deliver the addresses. Thereafter it will be published by the college.

C. Wilbert Snow was born at Whitehead. When he was seven his parents moved to the mainland in order that the children might go to school. He attended school in the winter and went fishing and lobstering in the summer. Upon graduating from Thomaston High School Mr. Snow was attracted to Bowdoin because of its long literary tradition. He was the first recipient of the Longfellow Graduate Scholarship and proceeded to study English at Columbia, receiving the degree of M. A. He has taught in seven American colleges, Bowdoin, Williams, Wesleyan, New York University, University of Utah, Indiana University, and Reed College in Oregon. He also spent a year as reindeer agent and Eskimo educator in the Seward peninsula, Alaska. During the World War, he was lieutenant in the artillery, and at the close was commissioned captain in the Reserves.

He has published one book of poems "Maine Coast" Harcourt and Brace, 1923, and has a second volume nearly completed. Poems and reviews of his have appeared in Scribner's, the Century, the Forum, the Nation, Poetry, the Measure, and the Youth's Companion.

WORKS FOR BOYS

Clarence Robinson To Be One of the Speakers At the June Meeting.

Clarence C. Robinson of New York, a nationally known figure of the Young Men's Christian Association of North America, is to be one of the instructors at the Leadership Conference which will be held at Lake Coblessecontee, Winthrop, June 20 to 27.

This conference is designed to fill a very important place in the development of Maine, as it has its objective the training of young men to become leaders. Without proper future leadership, everyone agrees, all the development plans for the future of the State will miss the mark. Mr. Robinson will give courses dealing with the following subjects: "How to Choose Your Life Work," "How to Develop Your Personality," "The Boy and His Girl Friends," "The Organization of Boys Groups," "The Characteristics of Younger and Older Boys," "The Speed of World Brotherhood," "How to Make Bible Study Attractive to Boys."

Mr. Robinson graduated from Bowdoin College with honors in 1900. During his college career he was active in athletics, a prize-winner in literature, and president of the college Y. M. C. A. He is a member of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity. "Boys' work with the Y. M. C. A. has occupied Mr. Robinson since his graduation. After seven years' experience as a local boys' work director in Philadelphia and in Trenton and Salem, N. J., he was for two years state secretary for boys' work in Maine. Then he accepted his present post on the National Council.

He is the author of several books dealing with the problems of employed boys, among them "The Wage Earning Boys," "The Find Yourself Idea," and "Christian Teaching on Social and Economic Questions." He is one of the writers for the Father and Son Library. He also prepared the report on the vocational status of boyhood in the United States for the World's Conference of Y. M. C. A. Workers Among Boys, held at Portschach, Austria, in 1923. Members of New York Stock Exchange indicated their interest in this report by financing and distributing many copies of it.

THE GOVERNORS' ITINERARY

Luncheon At Camden Yacht Club Fourth of July Afternoon Ends a Week of Festivities.

While it appears that Rockland is to have no direct share in entertaining the governors when they come to Maine a few weeks hence for their annual conference, there is a feeling of community pride that the visit of the distinguished executives is to have its climax in the neighboring town of Camden.

The official program, which was issued Saturday, states that the party will board the Cyrus H. Curtis yacht, "Lyndonia," at Bar Harbor Fourth of July morning at 9 o'clock, and as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bok will cruise Frenchman's Bay and Penobscot Bay, arriving at Camden in season for luncheon at 1 p. m. (standard time).

This luncheon will be served at the Camden Yacht Club and completes the party's itinerary. The governors will then disperse for various points, automobile service being furnished to take them to any part of Maine they desire.

Whether the dirigible Shenandoah will come to Camden is not stated, but the giant aircraft is to be at Bar Harbor, and it almost seems that this section of the Maine coast ought to get a glimpse of the wonderful craft.

That this year's conference will be the largest attended since its organization is indicated by the response to date of the coming executives. Many who will be unable to arrive with the main party have signified their intention of motoring in.

Tax reduction, and budgeting the appropriations for the states, will be the main topics to occupy the visiting men, Governor Brewster announced.

Augusta, Bangor, Bar Harbor and Houlton will play leading hosts to the visitors, arrangements now being complete for special entertainment at these places.

A dinner and dance at the Penobscot Valley Country Club as guests of the city of Bangor will be tendered the governors on Wednesday, July 1, at 6 o'clock.

At Bar Harbor, especially elaborate exercises have been arranged. "Lyndonia," the Cyrus H. Curtis yacht, will be the platform for the disposal by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bok who are now cruising along the Maine coast. The "Lyndonia" with the governors aboard, will sail along Mt. Desert, Frenchman's Bay and Penobscot Bay and thence to Camden, where the entertainment ends.

A feature of the yacht cruise will be an old fashioned clam bake upon the shores of Frenchman's Bay, to be given under the auspices of the Pot and Kettle Club. A yacht race has also been arranged at Bar Harbor, each governor to take charge of a yacht and the winner to be awarded a silver cup.

At Bar Harbor, the executives will leave the Lyndonia to any point in Maine will be furnished.

THE RED CROSS
Its Recent Work of Rescue Carried On In the South and West.

One of the beneficiaries of Rockland's Community Chest is the local chapter of American Red Cross. "We know of its helpfulness here at home and abroad," says the American Red Cross, "and what it is doing in the larger field of rescue when disaster comes upon sections of the country. Nor are we to lose sight of the fact that should disaster in any form ever visit the region of Rockland, we too would have the whole machinery of the national organization set in motion for our help. It is a wonderful organization to be linked up with. The following story comes to The Courier-Gazette from the Washington headquarters:

Over 24,000 people, victims of three recent disasters, are now being rehabilitated by the American Red Cross. This constitutes the largest number of disaster victims ever under the care of the organization at any one time in this country.

At Cumcoek, North Carolina, where a mine explosion on May 27 killed 51 miners, there are 200 people, members of the dead miners' families, who are being placed back on their feet and in a position permanently to care for themselves after the death of their wage earners.

At Ausable Forks, New York, where a fire on May 14 destroyed a part of the town, the American Red Cross is caring for 280 people left homeless by the fire.

In the three states of Missouri, Illinois and Indiana which were partly devastated by the tornado of March 18, the organization is rehabilitating over 24,000 storm victims left homeless by the most destructive tornado this country has ever suffered. The relief fund which is being administered for the mid-western tornado victims will probably exceed $3,000,000.

The North Carolina Red Cross Chapters are now raising a fund of $35,000 for relief work at the Cumcoek mine. This, with $5,000 appropriated by the American National Red Cross, is expected to completely rehabilitate the families of the disaster victims. The American Red Cross in addition to its appropriation for relief pays all the expenses of the relief administrations. The Red Cross Disaster workers have been in the Cumcoek mine since the day of the explosion and all the relief work has been officially turned over to the organization by the governor of the State.

The Cumcoek explosion is the third mine disaster in which the American Red Cross has given relief this year. It has just completed the rehabilitation work at Sullivan, Indiana, where 51 miners were killed on February 19; and also at Fairmont, West Virginia, where 33 miners were killed on March 17.

Patrolman John A. Post entered upon his duties as a member of the regular force yesterday. He needed no coaching, having formerly served in that capacity.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Maynard Brasler, express messenger, embarked on a fortnight's vacation yesterday.

Lucien K. Green, head of the fur department at the Fuller-Cobb-Davis store, is having a week's vacation.

Patrolman Harold W. Philbrook moves this week into the Payson house at 163 Pleasant street, which property he has just bought.

Mrs. Ogarta Rose Rugg will broadcast from Station WJY, New York, 405 meters Thursday evening, June 11, at 8.30.

A. E. Morton has lately painted and repaired Ralph Clark and Paul Sawyer's residences and is now doing a similar turn for Rodney L. Thompson. Alvah R. Clark's residence is on his waiting list.

There was a sound of blasting by day, on Myrtle street yesterday, and the occasion of it was the firing of 26 shots to remove ledges in the pathway of the new sewer. Hiram Welch and Marcella B. Winslow, expert quarrymen had charge of the work.

A squad of six traveling salesmen who exploit the goods of the John Bird Co. in the extensive territory served by that big wholesale house, dined at Green Gables in Camden Saturday, and found it a very pleasant retreat on that excessively hot day.

John J. Wardwell inspector for the American Bureau of Shipping, has returned from Bothby Harbor where he reviewed the work which has been done on the five-masted schooner Mary H. Diebold, which was recently side-swiped by a steamer and is having its first special survey.

A Second Battalion officers' school, with 16 in attendance, was held at Hotel Rockland Saturday. Artillery problems were worked out under the direction of Lieut. De Merritt. Major Ralph W. Brown was in charge of the school. Major Brown went to Vinhaven yesterday to close up the affairs of Battery H, which has been disbanded, and transferred to Bath.

The Thomaston High School team which planned a 14 to 1 defeat onto Rockland High in a 5-inning game at Thomaston Saturday, plays a return game at Community Park tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. The Rockland boys commit themselves to no other promise than that it will be a less one-sided contest next time. Thomaston is especially anxious to win this game because she will thereby complete her schedule without a single defeat.

Francis J. P. Walsh and Frank Hammarham were among the few traveling men who Sunday in Rockland. Mr. Walsh likes the city so well that he elected to make it his residence when he became an American citizen. As the guest of Charles S. Hall at Point Thordike he was more than ever convinced that this is the proper locality to live in. Mr. Hammarham was born and brought up in Rockland, and while his duties have called him into distant and more active fields he'd fight at the drop of the hat if anybody said a word against his home city.

When Phil Jones writes his checks nowadays he does it with a hand-some new gold mounted fountain pen, which he received through the mail the other day with the compliments of the Postoffice clerks. At the banquet which rounded out the State convention on Memorial Day Mr. Jones directed the community singing, and it was such a pleasing part of the evening's entertainment that the local clerks wanted to contribute their appreciation, which they did in this pleasing and appropriate manner. Mr. Jones also received a fine letter from Mr. Dolan, secretary of the Massachusetts branch, who was a special guest, and who particularly admired the song leader's pep.

MAINE, THE HEALTH STATE

When Maine with becoming modesty invites the attention of the world to certain qualities which entitle her to public consideration, the item of health should not go unregarded. The Maine Public Health Association, whose good work has often been brought to the attention of our readers, in a recent announcement declared that Maine is steadily out-distancing her sister states in the fight for better health. The announcement is based on a study of state and national statistics made by Miss Jessamine Whitney, statistician on the staff of the National Tuberculosis Association. For the year 1923, according to the results shown by the study, no state east of the Mississippi River nor south of the Great Lakes had as low a death rate from tuberculosis as Maine, whose rate for that year was 80.7 per 100,000 population, compared with 90.0 for Connecticut, 82.6 for Vermont, 81.7 for New Hampshire, 88.5 for Massachusetts and 100.2 for Rhode Island. In fact, all the states lying east of the Mississippi and south of the Great Lakes show a higher tuberculosis death rate than Maine. The figures also show that for the year 1924 Maine established a record low death rate—deaths from all causes—with a percentage of 13.6. But it is in the average age at death that Maine makes probably its best showing. For the year 1923 the average age at death in Maine was 52.5 years as compared with the figure of 44.9 years for the balance of the U. S. registration area of 37 states. The advantage in Maine's favor is 7.6 years.

Co-operation—working together—is largely responsible for this encouraging state of things, for there is splendid team work carried on by the Public Health Association, Maine Medical Association, the state department of health and education, the parent-teacher associations, the federated clubs, manufacturers, dental societies, etc., to a degree never before known, and to which is to be added the work of the various Red Cross chapters.

In no other state, we are told, is there the same degree of co-operation in health work as exists in Maine. Within the past two years, national authorities in health and other organization work have come here to study the plan of having several sections of one organization—tuberculosis, cancer control, child health, etc.—instead of having several separate statewide organizations with conflicting fund-raising appeals, separate staffs, separate boards of directors, as are so often found in other states.

Boon Maine! This is the land of good health, where folks live best and longest.

Miss Smyth of New Haven, who spends her summers in Islesford, has been in this vicinity in search of old-time sea songs and chanteys. Readers of The Courier-Gazette who know of such material will confer a favor by communicating with this office. Miss Smyth has already published one book of sea songs and hopes to add to her valuable collection. She particularly desires songs or verses connected with the ship "Unlon" of St. John, wrecked off Mount Desert, and the wreck of the ship "Saladin."

Many things are laid upon the shoulders of the Volstead law. Excess in the eating of rich foods that contain a great amount of sugar is one of the latest of them to receive publicity. Heavy drinkers, deprived of that form of happiness, rush into the consumption of sugar, and the records of diabetes, so the doctors assure us, are thereby gravely inflated.

To drive along the Old County Road at this season of early summer verdure and the blossoming of apple trees, with the green sides of Dodge Mountain forming a background, is to feast the eyes upon one of the beauty spots of Knox County.

Those Bates College debaters continue to win triumphs in their 1925 tour of Great Britain, thereby repeating their successful tours of previous seasons.

We wish Mrs. Veazie in her nature column would explain to us these long, silvery filaments seen floating on the summer air.

Director Chapman will give his annual concert in Damariscotta tomorrow evening, his artists being the same who were in Rockland earlier in the season—Muriel Wilson, soprano, and Walter Mills, baritone. Both made a distinct impression at the Rockland concert, and undoubtedly there will be some from here who will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear them again at Damariscotta. A pleasant ride, a delicious supper at the Elks House and a delightful party to spend an evening.

Earle Ludwick was in Belfast Sunday and looked in upon Frank Clough who has a training school there this season. Mr. Clough is handling Col. Stillman a 6-year-old bay gelding owned by Frank Butler of Rockland, which has a trial mile of 2:07 1/2 to his credit. "If this horse can go half as fast as he looks," says Mr. Ludwick, "he will be able to do a mile in 2:10 this season." Mr. Clough owns Anna Garner a light bay mare with a record of 2:22 1/2, and is also training Gordon Princess a dark bay mare, owned by Charles Mitchell of this city. Both look good.

Watch out for De Fence Day. It is the date of the first annual baseball battle between the Rotary and Forty Clubs and will be fought to its bitter conclusion at Community Park sometime in the near future. Bert McLoon is Master of Hostilities for the Ancients and Honorables while Horace E. Lamb will lead the charge of the light brigade with handicaps so arranged that it will be even-Stephen for the winners. The public is invited to the slaughter with the hope that they will throw enough pennies on the drum to pay for the extra section of new fence installed at the Park. Hence—De Fence Day.

On the list of awards published by Boy Patrons of the Institute of Springfield, Mass., appear the names of two residents of Rockland, Miss Nora Nelson has received the gold medal from the Underwood Typewriter Co. for having passed the 60-word per minute speed test, and Miss Grace Sidelinger has been awarded a silver medal by the same company for passing the 50-word per minute speed test. She is also qualified as a competent typist with the Gregg Publishing Co. Both young women are members of the senior normal class and will take active part in the reunion celebration which will be held June 26-27 at the school, when a large number of many thousand graduates of the school will return to celebrate their class reunions.

School League Drawing To a Close—Battle For Second Place.

With only one more game to play Thomaston High still has an unbroken slate in the Knox and Lincoln League, where the race long ago resolved itself into a battle for second place. Vinalhaven is the present occupant of that position. The standing.

	Won	Lost	P. C.
Thomaston	7	0	1.000
Vinalhaven	4	3	.571
Camden	3	3	.500
Rockland	1	4	.200
Lincoln	1	6	.143

Lincoln Academy found as many other teams have, that it is not an easy matter to beat Vinalhaven High on the latter's own ground. Saturday's game resulted in a victory for the Islanders 11 to 1.

Thomaston 14, Rockland 1

John Flanagan, Jr., played the role of Santa Claus in Thomaston Saturday afternoon, and was the aid of some of his associates on the Rockland High School team presented the Knox and Lincoln champions with the first game in their annual series. The home team was not kept in suspense for the presentation was made in the very first, a prolonged session filled with unutterable joy for the Ella Vevees and inexpressible woe for the supporters of the Orange and Black who had crossed the Creek, hoping against hope.

The game was stopped by a cloud-burst in the first half of the 6th inning, and was not called off until the sorry spectators couldn't get any wetter, and the sun had begun to break through the clouds. The bedraggled procession which wended its way down by the abandoned lime quarry represented a curious mixture of joy and gloom, with the Rockland folks having a corner on the latter. The story of the game is virtually told in that first inning when Thomaston sent 13 men to bat, and made nine runs. In that inning young Flanagan allowed five hits, gave two bases on balls and hit one batter. Two errors of commission were made, and several of omissions. It was a sad and tragic occasion for those who had come from the Shore Village, while to those who applauded the hero their cup runneth over.

Flanagan abdicated the throne late in the 1st inning, and was succeeded by Hopkins who fared first rate at the hands of almost everybody except Bill Vinal. Bill was certainly having his day in court, for in three successive turns at bat he whanged out a triple and pair of doubles. He was going strong after Condon's record, when rain spoiled his fun.

Rockland's solitary run for rather the only one which counted) was made, curiously enough, in an inning when Feehan had four strikeouts. McLoon was the first victim, and Fife followed his example, but the third strike was a passed ball, and for the first time in the game Rockland was treading the base path.

An error by Condon, and Hopkins' grounder, sent Fife home. Black clouds had been rolling up in the West when the 6th inning opened, but everybody forgot them when things suddenly began coming Rockland's way. Hopkins was safe at first on an error by Lindsey, and traction walked. Jim Flanagan had the misfortune to hit the ball directly into Stone's hands, and the result was an unassisted double play. Trafton scored on Murphy's triple and Murphy, himself, scored on a passed ball. And then somebody punctured one of the black clouds, and it began raining.

Some of the spectators sought shelter in the parked automobiles, some hit for the forest, and others sat on the bleachers and took their medicine. And when the worst had happened and a better day was dawning somebody moved to adjourn.

The inning not having been completed the two Rocklanders did not count, for the tally was back to where it had stood at the end of the 5th. Murphy consequently gets robbed of his triple, which was one of the bright spots of the game. Another was the fine running catch made by McLoon on Stone's fly to short center. The score:

Delaware is facing a marked shortage of prepared public-school teachers, particularly for rural schools. It was necessary last year to issue more than a hundred provisional teacher certificates. In practically all cases these were issued to graduates of four-year high schools who had received at least six weeks of summer training.

If there should come another war, the common people should demand that it be fought out by the gentlemen who are inventing all the deadly weapons we read about.—Columbia Record.

TWO TRACK MEETS

Rockland High Takes High Rank In Knox and Lincoln Events and Loses To Bangor.

Only three schools in Knox and Lincoln Counties participated in yesterday's track meet at Community Park, but several of the events were so closely contested as to make it the most interesting affair of the kind which has ever been held here.

Rockland High won the meet with the impressive total of 61 points, while Thomaston High rich in baseball laurels, was obliged to be content with four points. Much disappointment was manifested because Camden did not send down her school athletes, as Camden High has always shown a decided preference for track athletics. Coach Burrill probably had some reason, but it has not been divulged.

Individual honors were divided between Green of Rockland High and Giles of Lincoln Academy, each of whom scored 18 points. Ordinarily Green would have participated in the broad jump, but was obliged to pass up a good opportunity to be high man of the meet because of the fact that he had injured his ankle slightly in the preceding event. He made a particularly fine showing in the discus throw, with a margin of nearly 12 feet over his nearest opponent, and he showed his good sportsmanship by smiling approval upon "Jap" Chapin when the latter, in the final trial, tossed him out in the shot put. Green will be a valuable find for some good prep school.

Lincoln Academy excelled in endurance running, winning the quarter and half mile events and the 220-yard low hurdles. The hundred yard dash was so exceedingly close between Green of Rockland and Giles of Lincoln that it was difficult to tell which won.

The shot put was won by one of the closest events of the day. Chapin of Rockland, hurling the big bullet 34 feet, 11 inches. Green of Rockland, 34 feet, 7 inches and Giles of Lincoln 34 feet, 7 inches. For a while it looked like a tie on the pole vault, between those three Rockland sharks, Sylvester, Winslow and Bartlett, but the more the long leaped Sylvester jumped the more ambitious he became, and the bar was 9 feet, 4 inches above the surface of the earth when he last cleared it. Winslow and Bartlett tied at 9 feet flat.

The high jump produced a triple tie between the three schools. Green hurled the discus 89 feet, 4 inches, as against 76 feet, 7 inches by Giles of Lincoln and 72 feet, 11 inches by Giles of Lincoln.

It was another slivery day for bare-limbed athletes, and in marked contrast to the extremely torrid temperature which prevailed at the Rockland-Bangor meet only two days previously.

Philip A. Jones, athletic director, supervised the meet, and disapproved the age-old theory that a man cannot be in two places at one time. He was rendered valuable assistance by several old grads, including Jack Black, who has won laurels in school athletics. The summary:

Low hurdles, won by Giles, Lincoln Academy; Ripley, Rockland High, 2d. Time, 20 sec.

200-yard dash, won by Green, Rockland High; Giles, Lincoln Academy, 2d; Fales, Rockland High 3d. Time, 11 1-5 s.

880-yard run, won by Merry, Lincoln Academy; Dunton, Lincoln Academy 2d; Emery, Rockland High and Mears, Rockland High, tied for 3d. Time, 2 min. 15 4-5 sec.

High hurdles, won by Sylvester, Rockland High; Chapin, Rockland High 2d; Emery, Rockland High 3d. Time, 16 3-5 sec.

440-yard dash, won by Lake, Lincoln Academy; Merchant, Rockland High 2d; Jackson, Rockland High 3d. Time, 1 min. 4-5 sec.

Shot put, won by Chapin, Rockland High; Giles, Lincoln Academy 2d; Giles, Lincoln Academy 3d. Distance, 34 feet, 11 inches.

Pole vault, won by Sylvester, Rockland High; Winslow, Rockland High and Bartlett, Rockland High, tied for 2d. Height, 9 feet, 4 inches.

220-yard dash, won by Green, Rockland High; Giles, Lincoln Academy 2d; Ripley, Rockland High 3d.

High jump, Sylvester, Rockland High; Barry, Thomaston High 2d; and Webster, Lincoln Academy, tied for 1st. Height, 5 feet, 4 inches.

Discus throw, won by Green, Rockland High; Giles, Lincoln Academy 2d; Fales, Rockland High 3d. Distance, 89 feet, 4 inches.

Broad jump, won by Ripley, Rockland High; Giles, Lincoln Academy 2d; Chapin, Rockland High 3d. Distance, 17 feet 4 1/2 inches.

The officials were Fred C. Black starter, Charles C. Wotton, A. C. McLoon, Earl Alden and Henry McDonald, judges, Orel E. Davies timer, Cecil Benson clerk of course.

Saturday's Meet

At Community Park Saturday Bangor High and Rockland High held their first annual track meet, and while the up-river students were victorious they found the contest none too easy, and were obliged to see the individual honor go to a Rockland athlete, for scoring the largest number of points at the meet.

Bangor scored 61 points to Rockland's 38, the largest number of points made by an individual was 13 and was credited to Green who made three seconds and a first.

Bangor was supposed to be on hand at 10 o'clock, daylight time, but it was long after that before the Queen City athletes showed up, and going on the supposition that they were not coming Coach Jones decided to have a meet of his own.

The temperature was considerably hotter than 100 in the sun, consequently the local boys were far from fresh when

A Simmons College student, Miss Spring, arrives in the city tomorrow to take a three weeks' course in field work under the direction of Miss Louise Sawyer, the local Red Cross worker. Miss Spring is taking the academic course in public health nursing, which has to be supplemented by field work before a diploma is issued. Prof. Marion Rice of the Simmons faculty has selected Rockland as the ideal field for the young lady's work, a striking compliment to our city's Red Cross organization of which our people will be duly sensible.

Peter de Paolo, youthful racing star and nephew of the famous Ralph de Palma, who broke all records on the Indianapolis speedway, Memorial Day, used an Exide battery in his car, according to information received by Messrs House & Sherman of the local Exide Service Station from the Exide factory in Philadelphia. The following telegram was sent by Duesenberg Bros., designers and manufacturers of De Paolo's car to the Electric Storage Battery Co., manufacturers of Exide Batteries: "The reliable Exide Battery on De Paolo's car helped us win the race." De Paolo set an average of 101.13 miles an hour for a 500 mile drive and won $38,000. Another telegram telling of an Exide-equipped car winning a race was received from Charles F. Gannum, who has figured in a number of races in the East. It reads: "Won two firsts one second at races Rochester May 30 using Exide battery as usual."—adv.

"In all my years of active funeral direction in this city I have never seen a more considerate, courteous or efficient group of police officers than the members of the present force," said Alden Ulmer of the Burpee staff yesterday in speaking of the manner in which traffic at a local funeral was handled.

A power boat operated by Oliver Wiggin, was raided by Capt. L. H. Dunn of the Whitehead Coast Guard Station, at Atlantic wharf, Saturday night, and as the result of his search six gallons of alcohol were added to the Custom House preserves. Wiggin will have a hearing before the federal authorities in Bangor.

Children's Playground will probably be open the latter part of the week. Several new wickets have added to the many existing features and the plant will be well worth a visit, especially the new jungle gym. Miss Emily Pease, who has been so successful in seasons past as play director will again be in charge.

City Clerk E. R. Keene and Dr. J. F. Burgess visited Quantabocook Lodge, F. & A. M. in Seabrook Saturday night and reached the conclusion that the Blue Lodge boys up that way believe in taking their own time. The meeting did not begin until after 9 o'clock, Rockland time, and was still in session at 2.30 when the Rockland men departed. Bob and the Doc took their lives in their hands by eating a heavily baked bean supper at midnight, salad, pickles and Mr. Keene is a past master of this lodge, and was most cordially received, as also was Dr. Burgess.

One recent night a party of Rockland motorists were returning home from Rockport, when, as they were nearing the bridge and driving cautiously down that curving hill, a large automobile tire came crashing down from the bank above and struck the auto with so much force that one of the screw bolts of the bumper was broken. The occupants of the car were considerably startled. Boys were seen playing on the bank and it was thought they may have found the tire in the grass and started it to rolling down the bank, heedless of consequences. If the car had been going at higher speed greater damage might have been caused by the swiftly moving tire. There is a dangerous place and boys should be more careful.

William E. Brown, a Central Maine employe received a bad cut on the head in front of the newest Bicknell block yesterday afternoon, through the falling of a heavy wire, which was being used in hoisting a section of culing. Mr. Brown was unconscious for while, but an examination failed to show serious injury. He was recently awarded the Insull medal for saving the life of a fellow workman.

The program for Wednesday and Thursday at the Empire Theatre, is "The Beauty and the Bad Man," featuring a special cast. The companion picture is "Pauline Frederick in 'Smouldering Fires.'"—adv.

The artist who made up the Forty Club minstrels for the recent performance was none other than our old friend, Fred J. Harvey, a stage professional of years' standing, who certainly knows the whys and wherefores of the theatrical game. He patriotically gave his services on this occasion.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist church and the Little Light Bearers will have a lawn party Thursday afternoon at 2.30 at the home of Mrs. Ralph Clark, 238 Broadway. There will be an entertainment, games and refreshments. All of the children of the church 10 years of age and younger are invited. If stormy Thursday the party will be held the following Thursday.

Quarry workers at the St. George Granite Co. plant are telling a story that has sent many motorists scuttling to the plant on curiosity bent. A patch of open ground 200 feet square used for cutting paving blocks suddenly settled some 12 feet over the weekend leaving the tracks dangling in the air and turning the orderly piles of thousands of tons of granite into jumbled heaps. "Some sight" say those who have seen it.

Saturday evening a flogger occupied by a Finnish family party parked at the corner of Union and Grace streets. Pa and Ma Finn, got out, bade the four little Finns who comprised the rest of the party to be good and sit tight in the car, while they (Pa and Ma) went off to the relaxations of the moving pictures. All went well with the quietest of little folks, whose ages ran from 4 to 7 years, until the tempest broke. Lightning flashing, thunder pealing and the rain in torrents descending. Presently the limb of a nearby tree crashed down upon the flogger. The screams of four lusty Finn youngsters rose above the tempest's din. On his adjoining verandah Mrs. Peeney was watching with awe-struck countenance the riot of the elements, when the shrieks of the children smote upon his ears. No child in distress would ever appeal in vain to Ira. In an instant he had dashed out into the downpour, taken those kiddies into his arms, hushed their cries, rushed them across to the protection of his verandah, and there he kept them, administering candies to their receptive and delighted mouths and otherwise joyously entertaining them, until the conclusion of the movies permitted Pa and Ma the happiness of a reunited family.

The Forty Club Minstrels were repeated with some highly amusing variations at the noon luncheon yesterday. The matter of a local baseball nine to represent the club in the proposed local league was given earnest consideration and there is a strong possibility that a team will be put into the field. The Forty Club baseball razzle-dazzle was held in abeyance until after the Minstrels but will head up at once now. The net figures of the Minstrels are not yet available, but it is certain that the Athletic Association will get over $350.

A. C. Jones of this city and Kenneth Knight of Rockport have formed a partnership under the style of Jones & Knight, for the purpose of handling the Knox County agency of the popular Jewett motor car. They will have headquarters with E. O. Philbrook & Son at the Northend, and Knox County Jewett owners will be pleased to learn that they can receive service there. Messrs. Jones and Knight are both thoroughly versed in the automobile game, and can be counted upon to handle the Jewett to the manufacturers' advantage. The new partnership now conflicts with Mr. Jones' agency for the Apperson, for which he covers Maine territory.

Union Masons will lose no time in the erection of their new home, according to L. C. Thurston, who was in the city Sunday. The lodge desires to raise $7500 before actual construction begins, and have all but $1200 of this amount in sight. The estimated total cost is in the neighborhood of $15,000. It was first intended to have the new temple a bit remote from its old location in the business center, but the present plan is to build on the lots which were occupied by Moniker block and the Gordon & Lovejoy block destroyed in the recent fire. Union Masons would not tolerate the idea of long being homeless.

The interesting collection of cups now on exhibition in the window of Gregory's clothing store furnishes an additional incentive for the National Guardsmen who will attend the Coast Artillery Corps' annual tour of duty at Fort Williams next month. This large bronze cup is the military trophy offered by Gov. Baxter to the battery in the 24th F. A. which attains the highest military rating. Battery G and Battery A have each won it once, and with a view to becoming its permanent possessor Battery G is hoping to lug it off again this year. The display in the Gregory window includes 11 cups which are offered for excellence in rifle marksmanship, gunnery, mess management, excellence in infantry drill, largest percentage of attendance, pistol practice and athletics. Also on exhibition is the Col. Ford trophy for competition in the State shoot. Battery G has won it twice, and is now after it for the third and final win. Striking regimental photographs.

Manager Dondis wishes to announce that "Wildfire" with Alleen Pringle, is coming to the Strand soon. It is taken from the great stage play of the same name in which Lillian Russell starred some years ago. Also next week "The Dixie Handicap" is returning to the Strand. Mr. O'Hara will interpret the feature with Southern melodies as before.—adv.

TO MYSTERY LAND

U. S. Navy Planes With MacMillan To Explore Baffin Land.

Baffin Land, which U. S. Navy planes of the MacMillan Arctic Expedition will explore, is one of the least known regions of North America, according to the following bulletin from the National Geographic Society—The Society under whose auspices the expedition will work:

"Frobisher discovered the southern point of Baffin Land 349 years ago," says the bulletin. "North America in those three and a half centuries has acquired civilization and 120,000,000 people, but scarcely anything more is known of Baffin Land than what the old sea captain himself discovered."

A Quaint Description

"Mountains, in most parts covered with snow," so Frobisher describes the southern extremity. Modern discovery confirms this and his further belief that the northern lands have less store of snow, more grass, and are more playmate country. His description of the birds and beasts and of the Eskimos, their character, implements and boats, fits precisely with our 1925 estimate.

"Yet Frobisher touched only one corner of this vast island and his successors scarcely more than the shore, so a vast virgin field awaits the expedition's cameras."

"Baffin Island is the third largest island in the world, Australia and Greenland surpassing it. Resolution Island, off the southern part of Baffin Island, is about on a latitude of the southern shore line of Alaska and of Oslo, capital of Norway and Leningrad. But Baffin Island is more than one thousand miles in length, so its northern latitude is five hundred miles north of both Hammarfest, at the top of Scandinavia, and Point Barrow, Alaska. Baffin Island has resisted thorough exploration by virtue of its vastness. It is larger than any state of the United States except Texas and would make almost four New Englands."

Region of "Great Lakes"

"A lake nearly as large as Ontario is one of the island's features. Angmagluk, 'the great water,' in Eskimo language, is 120 miles long and 40 miles wide. It is, however, only one of the 'Great Lakes' of Baffin Island. There are also Tesseyoakjuk Lake and Lake Netselik. The latter may be larger than Angmagluk."

"These lakes offer one of the few places for safe water landings for planes to be found anywhere in the Arctic. Floating ice is an ever present danger in the sea but the high temperatures of the warmed lake water eliminate this hazard."

Fish Through Igloo Floors

"South Sea Islands are supposed to afford a life of magnificent ease in contrast with the Arctic, since there a family can live on the fruit of three trees. Baffin Island Es-landers, however, have improved on this handy commissary. In the winter they build their igloos on the lakes, cut a hole through the parlor floor, and fish for their dinner. The Eskimo population is placed at 676."

"Ilders and lakes of the island are well stocked with fish, notably sea trout and speckled trout. The Arctic hare, white and blue, and white foxes are found. The foxes apparently live on mice of various kinds. Reindeer are numerous and a few musk oxen are believed to inhabit the northern section."

"Commander MacMillan believes that Baffin Island may contain the mysterious home of the blue goose. It is known that the trumpeter swan and the common eider breed on Nottingham Island, at the mouth of Hudson Bay, but the breeding ground of the blue goose, whose flying wedges, hooting across the spring sky are so familiar to North America, has never been discovered. Should this home be discovered it will open up a virgin field for an important ornithological study. No danger of the planes colliding with great flocks of frightened birds is anticipated, since similar geese breeding in islands north of Siberia lose their power of flight because of molting during the nesting season."

Flowers and Butterflies Abound

"For delightful summer climate a person would not go to the seashore of Baffin Island, but inland. Currents bearing icebergs and chilled by melting ice make the coast cool and damp. Inland, within the shelter of the rocks, the sun beats down for long hours of the Arctic day. Brilliant flowers blossom, butterflies enliven the warmed rocks, and even the pestiferous summer flies irritate modern explorers just as much as they did Frobisher."

"Like the American, Baffin Island takes its name not from its discoverer but from a later explorer, William Baffin. Baffin never landed on the island, but his scientific observations made as pilot on three important ventures into the Northwest earned him the honor of having the big bay between North Greenland and Baffin Island, named after him. His most remarkable voyage was with Robert Bylot, ship master, through Davis Strait, now the highway to North Greenland, and into Baffin Bay, which had never been seen by white men before."

"At the top of the bay, Baffin noted down the great declination of the compass, the greatest discovered up to that time. Three merchant adventures of London's fleet, who sent this expedition and many others, are memorialized in guide books to the Arctic left by this expedition: Lancaster Sound, for Sir James Lancaster, boundary to Baffin Island on the northwest; Jones Sound, farther north, for Sir Francis Jones; and Smith Sound, on which Etah lies, for Sir Thomas Smith."

A Land of Many Parts

"Baffin Island is virtually a land of many lands. Within its shores are Penny Land, Cumberland, Hopper Land, Greenwood Land, Cockburn Land, Fox Land, Prince William Land, Milne Land and Meta Incognita. So sprawling out is the island with points and promontories that a succession of explorers discovered various parts independently. With the wish father to the thought, they christened their find

THE STRAWBERRY

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

The recent item alluding to the quantity of strawberries in the market, recalls what Dr. Butler said: "Doubtless God could have made a better berry, but doubtless God never did." Most people will agree with this statement, for it is a delicious fruit, especially when picked fresh from the vines. And what is more delicious than a dish of the wild berry, with cream, as some prefer which every country boy and girl knows so well, and which is so often associated with warm days and the fragrance of new mown hay.

Relatives are people who wonder how you manage to get by.—Burlington Hawk-eye.

With an explorer's pride of discovery he undoubtedly told with fervor of the mountains in most parts covered with snow," the absence of trees, and the handful of Eskimo inhabitants. Would her gracious majesty choose to give a name to this new found land? Her majesty would, there must have been a twinkle in the royal eyes as she named it Meta Incognita, meaning 'beyond the unknown.'

"But Queen Elizabeth's joke is still good and not until the U. S. Navy airplanes have surveyed it, will Baffin Island be 'beyond the unknown.'"

CONSTIPATION

means SUFFERING

Poor little thing! It can't tell when the milk is wrong, or it has a little cold, or any of the hundred things that might happen to one so young! But nature can—and does. The baby becomes constipated, it cries, it frets. That is the warning to look out. Danger and disease are lurking in the body. All the poisons are bottled up in that little frame. Relieve this condition at once or you may have a very sick child.

The Family Laxative

—relieves constipation and brings the little one back to health. It restores the bowels to normal activity and so gently that the baby joyously laughs. It's Nature's relief for constipation—Egyptian senna, pepsin and pleasing aromatics in a pleasant tasting liquid combination prescribed by Dr. Caldwell for years in his extensive practice and used throughout the country for over 30 years.

Question: Why do all of the great racing cars use Valve-in-Head engines?

Answer: Because this type develops the greatest speed and power. All first place winners of the Indianapolis 500 mile race since 1912 have had Valve-in-Head engines. Buick pioneered the Valve-in-Head engine in 1904 and has used it ever since because it is more powerful, more economical and more dependable.

AT DARK HARBOR

A Gay Season Is Expected At This Noted Resort.

Everything indicates one of the gayest seasons in years at Dark Harbor, Islesboro, this summer and practically every cottage is either leased or will be occupied by its owners, many coming the first and middle of June. While Islesboro Inn will not be formally opened until the 1st of July, guests will be received the last week in June, when several New York families are due to arrive.

Mrs. Clarence Dillon of New York is the guest of the Charles Dana Gibbons at Seven Hundred Acres Island, while her new summer home in Dark Harbor is being settled. The Dillon place is one of the largest and most attractive in Islesboro comprising 14 acres on the west shore and will be opened for the first time this season.

The very first arrivals of the Summer Colony were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dana Gibbons who came shortly after returning from Europe. Their picturesque island home known as Indian Island, is on Seven Hundred Acres Island, a short distance off shore from Islesboro but included in the township.

One of the social events of the mid-summer season will be the wedding on Aug. 26 of Miss Mary Christy Tiffany, daughter of the George S. Tiffany of St. Louis and John T. Pratt, Jr., son of John T. Pratt of New York and Glen Cove, who will take place in Islesboro, probably in St. Mary-of-the-Isle Church. The romance of these young people began with their meeting in Islesboro three years ago and both families have long been identified with the place. Miss Tiffany's grandfather, Dexter Tiffany of St. Louis being one of the pioneer cottagers. The wedding will bring a great many society people here from other Maine and New England summer resorts.

Dwight Davis and family of New York will arrive for the season about the middle of June and his brother Samuel Davis and family who were here last season will come for the summer.

George Whitney of New York has leased the cottage owned by Mrs. George Bird near the Inn and will occupy it with his family for the season.

Richard Whitney and family also of New York will occupy the Theodore Frothingham cottage on the West Shore.

Other New Yorkers coming this season include Albert Gallatin and family who will have the P. O. Beach cottage; Julian W. Robbins who comes to the Hill cottage; S. H. Philbin, who will have the MacLeod cottage; and John G. Milburn and family who will come for the season. Mr. Milburn is a brother of Devereux Milburn, the well known polo player.

The Clinton H. Cranes, always prominent at Islesboro will be missed here this season as they will spend the summer abroad. Mr. Crane is one of the most enthusiastic yachtsmen in the Islesboro club and plans to enter two of his boats in races in England this season.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Moore of New York with their daughters and son Edward S. Moore, Jr., will again summer at Islesboro, where they spend much of their time cruising and racing on their yacht Whispur.

A. M. Andrews and family of New York will be among those who will come for the season, and will be at the Inn. The John T. Pratts will also be guests at the Inn, and the Harold I. Pratts will open their cottage on the West Shore early in the season.

The usual Boston coterie will come early this season and will include the J. Murray Forbeses of Milton with Miss Dorothy Forbes, who spent the winter at their cottage at Saranac Lake, and Miss Mary Forbes, who will occupy the Forbes place on the West Shore.

Then there are the Dudley-Hoves, the Henry S. Hoves, the Frederick Moseleys, Dr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Daniels, Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Shattuck, Mrs. George Silsbee, the George Lewises, and others.

From Philadelphia come the William Ellis Sells, after an absence of two years, to occupy their cottage near the Inn; the John Kearseley Mitchells and children, the Livingston L. Biddles, the George Washington Childs Drexels.

Rev. William G. Thayer, of St. Marks School, Southboro, Mass. will be an early arrival.

The P. Murray Forbeses of Wellesley will join the colony of Bostonians here this season, and the Edward D. Brandigees who have leased their cottage while they have been in Scotland, will return but will go to North Haven for the summer.

F. K. Leach who was assistant manager of the Gotham, New York during the winter will again officiate as clerk at the Inn, of which D. H. Smith is manager. Miss Alice Smith who will receive her degree at Columbia in June will be her father's secretary.

Frank L. Polk of New York, with his family will occupy the Draper Cottage this season. Mr. Polk brought Islesboro into the public eye last season by being the host of John W. Davis, the Democratic nominee for President.

"THROUGH TRIALS TO TRIUMPHS"

Successful Graduation Exercises For Class of Fourteen From Rockport High Held Friday.

A class of fourteen was graduated Friday evening from the Rockport High School. The auditorium of the Baptist church, where the interesting exercises were held, was filled to its utmost capacity. The color scheme of the decorations, gold and white, was very effectively carried out, and above the platform was suspended in gold letters on a green background the class motto, "Through Trials to Triumph."

At 8 o'clock to the march finely rendered by Miss Charlotte Cross of Rockland, a former teacher in the High School, the chorus was marshaled by Alton H. Crone, '26, beneath arches of green and white to seats in the rear of the platform and were followed by the members of the class of whom the town has reason to be proud. Prayer was offered by Rev. N. Palmer of the Methodist church, the chorus rendered under the direction of Mrs. W. H. Sanborn of Rockland, instructor of music in our schools, "The Legends of the Mascots."

The salutatorian of the class was Catherine Kaler who did herself credit in her well written essay, "How many, many times in life we are forced to admit the inadequacy of mere words to express the deepest sentiment of the soul. Our hearts fill with emotion and we learn when our tongues falter and our lips refuse to say what we wish them to, something of what Tennyson had in his mind when he wrote:

"I would that my tongue could utter
The thoughts that arise in me."

She welcomed friends and said in part, "To us, this is a great occasion, a red letter day, one of the brightest spots in all our lives, and bound to live forever in our memories. To some, it may be a pleasant place to be amused for an hour. To those who have a personal interest in us, it means of course, far more. To our parents and relatives it is an hour of pride and affection; to our teachers an hour of mingled joy in our success, and regret, we trust at the necessary parting. As for us, this occasion closes an epoch in our lives, the most important part of that epoch we have yet known. We ask you then, dear friends to be glad with us and for us, and assure you of our joy at having you with us on this occasion."

The history of the class was well told and delivered by Grace B. Butterfield. "The town of Rockport was awakened September eighth by clamorous cries and joyful outbursts of enthusiasm, as a crowd of boys and girls armed with baggage, pencil boxes, rulers, etc., rushed through the streets headed for the pier when the ship, the '1925' was waiting. It was rumored that the ship was to take them upon a four year's trip through arduous and troublesome waters in quest of the Fountain of Perfect Understanding. The crew numbered twenty-two. The ship had just cleared when two young ladies came breathlessly into view; one from cultured Boston and the other from the wilds of Patten, Me." Many adventures of the voyage were told by Miss Butterfield for the most part sailing in smooth waters. During the second year of their voyage they made the resolve to visit the Capital City at the end of their voyage. Much interest was taken in athletics and under the faithful guidance of Coach Hale the boys team in basket ball brought us fame, winning the championship of the Knox and Lincoln League. Their goal was attained when the Washington trip enjoyed. But not in vain the class of 1925, for while the voyage of High School life is at an end the voyage of real life is just here and now at its triumphant commencement.

Cornelia M. Marriner in a unique and pleasing manner foretold the future of her classmates. Strange things happen to us sometimes and mysterious gifts are apt to fall from the everywhere into our hands, just when we least expect it. I had said I would never again be surprised at anything but when on June 1, 1920 the "Rockport Daily Record" dropped into my hand. I was willing to take back my rash vow. Hastily opening the paper, I read in large headlines, "Huge Hippopotamus Captured by White Man in the Jungles of Southern Africa." The hunter a native of America, and the hero was Huse Tibbets. The familiar name of Upham appeared at the head of a page in these words, "The Advantage of Latin in Schools." Marion Upham had taken up the language as a profession. The advertisement "Buy Your Radio Here" Francis P. Dow, was next noticed as proprietor of a large radio department. A second advertisement of a designer of wardrobes was signed Madame Marie, Rue de Paix, N. Y., and known to be Mary Brann. A notice read "The World in the Future" and the "Fountain of Youth and Beauty" and proved to be Harold Buzzell. In the society column I read the announcement, Mrs. — followed by a strange name of Brewer, formerly Miss Angie Welt of Rockport, accompanied by her ten children was the recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rhodes, Jr., of West Rockport. Somewhat farther down another paragraph read "Charles Gregory leaves Tuesday for New York when he expects to make his debut as aviator in a new plane, X. Y. Z." The third item read "The Famous Actor Arnold Bartlett, who in company with Rudolph Valentino and Douglas Fairbanks has been touring Italy, will return Wednesday, and begin work on his latest picture 'Rockport's Invincible.'" Turning the pages I found the future of the four remaining students, Mary Marriner was now a famous hairdresser as was also our class historian Grace Butterfield. The picture of a college campus was noticed and the lines informed me that it was Payson University and a picture of Prof. Payson, founder and President of the Institute and the lady friend beside him was none other than my old classmate Catherine Kaler, now Mrs. Payson and assistant teacher in the college.

The presentation of Gifts was made in a very interesting manner by Milford A. Payson. To Marion Upham he gave a Latin book to be used when she took charge of the Latin department in Rockport High School. To Catherine Kaler the gun collected from the waste basket which she had placed there by command of the teacher as a reminder of High School days. Grace Butterfield received a curling iron to be used should she open a Beauty Parlor. Francis Dow who had always said "I won't do this" and "I can't see how it's done," was given a mule. To Mary Brann for her proficiency in the art of drawing, a box of water colors to be used when she became an artist later in life. Huse Tibbets, who has always showed great love for sport was given a miniature gun which will recall the pleasant weeks spent in Northern Maine while his classmates were struggling over their books on Diamond Hill. With some difficulty he chose as a gift Corinna Marriner an article seldom used by her, a box of rouge. Mary Marriner was presented with a miniature mirror which will not show her up so conspicuously as the one used when he met her last. William Bartlett, who was often that to school received a "Big Ben." Angie Welt, who has been a leader among the girls and taken a great liking to basketball was given a basket to recall many baskets she had scored against old rivals. Mildred Heald was after much search on the part of the giver, presented with a beautiful picture, a country scene "Cross Roads" the title of which should she desire could be changed to "Charles Rhodes." To Charles Gregory, the handy, all around man, was presented a hammer. Harold Buzzell, the last on the list, but by no means the least, whose Ford is rather old is given a larger car which will be more commodious for himself and Gwendolyn. Having delivered gifts to each of his classmates which may recall good old times at dear old Rockport High, in behalf of the class he left to the school the familiar songs and the old "Rockport Through Trials to Triumphs." "How oft we hear the word trial spoken in despairing tones. The world is filled with trials large and small. They are experienced by everyone from infancy to old age. As children, troubles are magnified which in reality could hardly be called trials. As we grow older those same troubles are multiplied a thousand fold, all of which have to be overcome one by one. If they are not conquered we are completely overwhelmed by them. Lincoln in his second inaugural address said, 'He that has never known trials is but half acquainted with others or himself.' During our four years course we have met great difficulties, but they have been overcome by the help of our many friends. Tonight we break these ties and begin the journey of life. Now we must conquer alone."

Miss Upham thanked parents and friends for the loving interest they had shown towards the class. "To Superintendents and members of the School Board who have shown interest by supporting us in all our projects, in athletics as well as in the classroom, we bid a fond farewell. To our teachers we owe a debt that we cannot easily repay. You have faithfully helped us in all our studies and endeavors. We thank you for this assistance. We owe much to our classmates for the assistance they have given us during these years they have been with us. We extend to them the best wishes for their successful future. Classmates: Sad times come in the lives of everyone and tonight is one of our first. After four years of happy intercourse and study we now must part. The best of wishes is extended to you that you may pass through all life's trials to triumph."

The class ode was written by Mary E. Brann and Angie M. Went. Tune, "The Rosary."

Now classmates we are together to say our last farewell.

Memories of our dear High School days, the scenes we've cherished so well;

So through life we'll gaily journey, striving to win the day,

Yet there is a thrill of sadness that will not pass away.

Chorus
No more, the good old friends, no more, the well known way,
For us new paths are marked, new duties fill our days;

Through trials may come we'll never fail, holding our motto high,
Through Trials to Triumph we'll ever strive.

The diplomas were conferred by Supt. H. C. Hull who in a most pleasing and appropriate manner referred to the time when he had stood where these young people are now standing and the years had passed like the passing of the ships in the night and congratulated the class on the success they had achieved and encouraged them to the best things in life.

Special mention should be made of the music under the efficient direction of Mrs. W. H. Sanborn which formed a large part of the program. The Senior Quartet "On Wings of Song" and "Forget-me-not" by the Senior Girls as well as the chorus were much enjoyed with the support of Miss Charlotte Cross as accompanist. Benediction was pronounced by Rev. J. N. Palmer.

The Graduates: Classical Course—Marion E. Upham, Milford A. Payson, General Course—William A. Bartlett, Mary E. Brann, Grace B. Butterfield, Harold E. Buzzell, Francis P. Dow, Charles E. Gregory, Mildred V. Heald, Catherine L. Kaler, Corinna M. Marriner, Mary Marriner, Huse N. Tibbets and Angie M. Welt.

THOMASTON

P. Henry Tillson Relief Corps was royally entertained by Mrs. Fred Sturtevant of Warren last week. A bountiful supper was served, after which the regular meeting was held. The Relief Corps made the wreaths for the soldiers monument this year as usual, and special mention should be made of the fact that Mrs. Anne Smith and niece got the evergreen for them all. Much credit is also due Walter Hastings for his untiring work, but for him Memorial Day would probably have been unobserved.

Arthur Mossman while working on a barn lifted heavily on a stick of timber straining his back and is now taking an enforced vacation.

For 48 days they laid on the ground at night. There are nine men living out of his company B 24th Infantry, but out of the 26 men to report at Port Hudson Mr. Flint is the only one living. He saw service later in the 9th Army Corps. He was within six miles of Lee's surrender, a happy event for the boys in blue.

PARK THEATRE

The final showings of the Paramount picture, "The Crowded Hour," which opened yesterday at the Park Theatre, will take place today.

The Paramount picture, "The Night Club," based on the stage play, "After Five," by William de Mille, will be the feature at Park Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

The story deals with a young fellow who inherits a million dollars from his uncle but has to marry a certain girl to collect. He has just gone through the unpleasant experience of having "the only girl in the world" walk out of the church on him for another fellow, and his feelings toward women in general are not what they might be, so he passes up the legacy, but when he sees the girl in the case, it's a different story entirely.

If you laughed at Ray Griffith in "Bluebeard" and "Forty Winks," this one will tumble you right out of your seat.—adv.

STRAND THEATRE

"I didn't really mean to." That's what Bobby Allen told his little sweetheart, Patsy Heath, after he had sailed a tennis racket at her, injuring her leg, in Mrs. Wallace Field's great photoplay, "Broken Laws," now at the Strand Theatre.

Wednesday and Thursday, Manager Donahue is bringing back "The Navigator" by request, for those who have not seen this great photoplay. Can you imagine Buster Keaton trying to run a 450-foot ocean liner all by himself? This production is far funnier than anything Keaton has ever done before. Added feature, "Wanted By the Law," with J. B. Warner.—adv.

CAPTAIN JOHN BUTLER

Fourth Maine Regiment Veteran Dies at Washington, D. C.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—There died in the Nation's Capital on May 21, one of the most distinguished soldiers of Maine's 72,000 volunteers in defense of the Union during the early sixties.

Capt. John Butler was born at New Vineyard, April 7, 1824, and was descended on both maternal and paternal lines from several of New England's oldest and most distinguished families. Not only was he a worthy representative of American life, but rendered a service to his country most unique in American military history, and represented a state holding a high place in the Union.

He enlisted at Rockland, April 16, 1861, in the celebrated Fourth Maine Volunteers, which regiment served with distinction under Gen. McClellan on the peninsula campaign, taking part in Bull Run, Yorktown and other hard-fought battles during the early part of the war.

Capt. Butler on a part of this campaign was assigned to the First Maine Sharpshooters, and was discharged Nov. 18, 1862, after receiving a wound and having a hospital record. He re-enlisted in the celebrated 20th Maine Volunteers, rising to the rank of captain, and was discharged July 14, 1865, in the latter regiment he took part in Antietam, Fredericksburg, Gettysburg, and other campaigns, including the siege before Richmond, making over twenty battles in all credited to him.

His funeral was conducted May 26 at the undertaking rooms of A. J. Schipper, a member of William B. Cushing Camp, Sons of Veterans.

Captain Butler was a member of Burnside Post No. 3 G. A. R. Department of the Potomac. He held a responsible position with the Government and was loved and highly respected by all who knew him. He is survived by Mrs. Alice B. Butler, whom he married in 1852. He was buried in Arlington with full military honors, the G. A. R. officiating. Notwithstanding his advanced years he discharged his Government duties until within a few days before his death. He was a man of steady habits and held in high esteem by all lovers of true and noble man.

His home was at 1852, where he lived with his wife and daughter, Gilbert P. Brown, Washington, D. C. June 6.

Yesterday's session of the Dorcas Club took the form of a picnic luncheon at the home of Mrs. W. O. Fuller and celebrated the birthday anniversary of one of the club's most popular members, Mrs. Abbie Hanscom, who besides having to cut the becardled birthday cake, returned thanks for a pretty birthday present from the club members.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Joseph arrived from Fitchburg, Mass., the last of the week for a short stay.

Misses Clara J. and Mary Hall of Newcastle are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hall, Summer street.

Mr. and Mrs. William Newbert and little daughter Joan Barbara arrived from New York City Thursday. They were accompanied by Mrs. Newbert's sister, Dorothy Snow, who was called there in April by Mrs. Newbert's illness. M. C. Conrad and John Daly made the trip with them in the Newbert's Cadillac touring car and Mr. Conrad's new Noma, the journey occupying two days. They will be in Camden for the summer.

Capt. Charles R. Magee, inspector of customs, was up town yesterday, looking a bit peaked, but duly thankful at having escaped a threatened attack of pneumonia.

Miss Rose Adams is home from University of Maine for the summer vacation.

Walter H. Robbins and family of Pratt, Kansas, are visiting in Rockland and vicinity.

Mrs. Marion Fuller and son Nathan of Augusta were guests of Miss Ruth Cobb at Coopers Beach over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon A. Chandler of Bangor, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Gardner of Rockport, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Averill of Rockland, entertained at the Thorndike Sunday at dinner Mr. and Mrs. Warren Gardner, Miss Marie Lunden and Miss Dorothy Chandler. This was the annual dinner party in honor of the three couples who were married in the month of June. Following the dinner, the company spent the remainder of the afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Averill. At the close of a delightful day Mr. and Mrs. Chandler returned to Bangor, Mrs. Averill accompanying them as their guest.

Mrs. Roland V. Follett of Boston has been spending the past week with friends in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan L. Bird attended University of Maine commencement, which this year marked the 25th anniversary of Mr. Bird's class. Upon their return to Rockland Mr. and Mrs. Bird had as guests Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Rollins of Waterville.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Maxey spent Sunday in Portland as guests of their daughter.

Mrs. Grace Ham Bagley, formerly of this city, recently suffered a serious ill turn at her home in Bridgeport, Conn., and is in the care of a trained nurse. Mrs. Bagley was planning a vacation visit to her old Rockland home this summer.

On Saturday 38 friends gathered at the home of Capt. and Mrs. Alfred E. Lord, 5 Bay View square, to help celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by Mrs. Frank E. Gregory and Mrs. Earl Charles Plano and vocal selections by the young people were enjoyed during the evening. Capt. and Mrs. Lord were married at St. John, N. B., 1900, and for the past nine years have been their home in this city. The many pretty gifts of silver, which were received, proved the high esteem in which they were held by their many friends.

Mayor William Taney of East Londondowne, Penn., is visiting James Diamond, Bay View square.

Mrs. Ogarita Rose Rusk of New York, is to be the assisting artist at an organ recital which James O'Hara is to give on the First Baptist church organ, probably around the middle of July. These artists are arranging an unusually fine program and this concert promises to be one of the events of the summer season.

Mrs. Frank L. Montgomery was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Gardner at North Pond.

Stripes, checks and plaid patterns refuse to be shelved from the hostess's picture. Several of the small pin check patterns offered for summer wear are repeated in appropriate fall colorings. On the whole it may be said that the checks and plaids are slightly smaller in size than those of a year ago. The most startling of the fall offerings are the broadly striped college socks with the characteristic colors of Dartmouth, Yale, Columbia, Syracuse, Cornell and Princeton. In children's socks, the "fisher" plaids—Cameron, Campbell, McLeod, Stuart, and McPherson—stand out as colorful novelties in the season's present showing.—Dry Goods Economist.

The mighty machinery of Community Chest began to function with last night's organization of the executive committee for the drive. The final lineup shows Rev. Walter S. Rounds as campaign chairman; George B. Wood as honorary campaign chairman, and F. W. Fuller, H. B. Bird, W. A. Glover, E. L. Brown, A. W. Gregory and H. P. Blodgett as committee members. This group will head up the big movement which has won such popular favor during the past year.

To the existing participants in Community Chest two more were added—The Children's Playground and Rockland Boy Scouts.

The Playground has had three happy years of existence on the Y. M. C. A. lot and has been successful enough to bring observers from other New England cities to watch it function. By its going into the Chest there will be no spectacular campaign by the youngsters for dimes. The Boy Scout idea presents a crying need which thoughtful citizens have recognized for a long time. This city is without a Y. M. C. A. and offers almost no proper entertainment for its adolescent boys. It is the aim of Community Chest to give the boys a leader of the fine, clean type during this formative, all-important period of their lives. The leader will be a full time man.

The report of the committee on investigating unpaid pledges brought to light the happy state of a clean-up by July 1. Less than one percent will remain unpaid, and this small amount, about $200 at most, is left by sheer necessity alone. Such a remarkable condition results only from the general good will toward the Chest.

The citizens of Rockland have full cause to be proud of the record made by Community Chest during the past year and should have full confidence in the men at its head this year, men of high calibre and sound business judgment who are handling the matter of the budget and giving unstintingly of their time and energy that Rockland may again have the benefit of Community Chest and the distinction of being the only city in Maine to swing it.

So every man and woman should make it his or her personal duty to be at the High School next Monday night and show by his presence his support of the Chest idea. The executive committee is possessed of a fine spirit and enters this intensive period of the campaign with a will to do and a determination to succeed.

The famous male quartet of Pratt M. E. church has been engaged to sing during the exercises Friday evening at Knox Klavern. Have you your tickets? Free for the asking. Supper will be served from 5 to 7, at 50 cents per plate, and consists of a menu worth double the price asked. This will be your opportunity to get acquainted with a few of us. Harvey's Orchestra will play afternoon and evening. Everything is ready and a good time is in store for everyone who believes in Klannishness—and that word means something.—adv.
